The Las Vegas Global Spirit Awards Partners With Local Distribution Company to Provide First-Ever Distribution Opportunities

Distributor to expand portfolio with Las Vegas Global Spirit Award winners

Las Vegas, Nev. – The Las Vegas Global Spirit Awards has joined forces with a leading boutique upscale distribution company to provide select entrants of the 3rd annual event with an opportunity that has never been seen before, a chance to distribute in the globally sought-after and highly competitive Las Vegas market. The event will take place on July 15 – 17 at the Palace Station Hotel & Casino.

The distributor will select spirits from the awards to add to their portfolio, which will allow any entrant a chance to be represented in one of the biggest and most visible global spirits markets, Las Vegas. This will give any supplier, distillery or brand the chance to be in front of buyers from around the world through an awards event, which has never been done before.

“I am honored to be joining the outstanding panel of expert judges at this year’s Las Vegas Global Spirit Awards and participating firsthand in selecting the best brands to add to our portfolio in Las Vegas. Knowing that the competition gets entries from small independent distillers in the United States and around the world makes this a great opportunity for us to examine and select product that we believe is right for the unique and challenging marketplace that is in Las Vegas”.

Jeremy Wilkinson, Pemberton Fine Wines & Spirits.

Pemberton Distribution will select spirits on site at the Las Vegas Global Spirit Awards from July 15 – 17.
